WILL BE HELD

Feb. 18th to 25th Inclusive

As has been our custom for several years, we will make to order, an additional pair of pants or a fancy vest, free with every suit or overcoat order taken during these seven days. Our entire stock of magnificent spring and summer woolens for the year 1911 will be included in this sale, except all blues and blacks. The price remains the same

All Suits $15 No More
All Overcoats $15 No Less

And in order to satisfy those that do not want a vest, we will charge $14 for a coat and pants, which will entitle you to an extra pair of pants. This sale is so well known that it is hardly necessary to explain. It is done for two reasons: One is to start our spring season a little earlier; the other is that it gives us an opportunity to clear out our stock by giving our odds and ends for extra pants

Our Stock of 1911 Woolens Will Be First Displayed for This Sale

Therefore, get your first pick and an extra pair of pants FREE, by leaving your order during these days

Feb. 18th to 25th Inclusive

TRADE

Of the United States with Noncontiguous Territories in 1910.

Trade of the United States with its noncontiguous territories aggregated two hundred million dollars in the calendar year 1910, against one hundred million in the calendar year 1903, the first year for which complete statistics of this trade are available. The figures of the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, just completed, show the total value of this trade in the year ending December 31, 1910, to be $202,494,343, and in the year ending December 31, 1903, $100,107,234, an increase of 100 per cent, while the trade with other parts of the world was increasing about 40 per cent. The territories in question are Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines, Guam, Tutuila and Midway Islands. The value of the merchandise shipped from the territories in question to the United States in 1910 was $101,731,031, against $61,876,756 in 1903. The value of the merchandise shipped from the United States to the noncontiguous territories was $90,763,312, against $38,230,478 in 1903. The increase in the period from 1903 to 1910 was thus 82 per cent in the value of merchandise shipped from the territories in question to the United States; and 139 per cent in the value of merchandise shipped from the United States to those territories.

The above figures do not include movements of gold and silver. The value of domestic gold shipped from Alaska to the United States in 1910 was in round terms fifteen million dollars, and of foreign gold (presumably from territory adjacent to Alaska) approximately three and one-half million dollars; while the value of domestic gold shipped from Hawaii to the United States in 1910 was about one-half million dollars. The principal articles forming this trade of more than 200 million dollars between the United States and its noncontiguous territories are in general terms tropical products sent from those islands to the United States, and fish, copper, and furs from Alaska, while of shipments from the United States to these territories manufactures and foodstuffs are the principal articles. Sugar and hemp are the principal articles coming from the Philippines, and as already indicated, fish, copper, and furs are the principal articles coming from Alaska. The quantity of sugar sent from Hawaii to the United States in the calendar year 1910 was a little over one billion pounds, valued at thirty-nine and one-half million dollars; from Porto Rico 626 million pounds, valued at twenty-six million dollars; and from the Philippines 213 million pounds valued at six and one-half million dollars. Tobacco is also an article of some importance in the shipments of merchandise from the tropical islands to the United States, amounting to one and one-half million dollars of unmanufactured tobacco and a little less than five million dollars in value of cigars from Porto Rico; a little less than two million dollars worth of cigars, cigarettes and cheroots from the Philippines, and about nine thousand dollars worth of tobacco from the Hawaiian Islands. Manila hemp from the Philippines in 1910 amounted to about eight and two-third million dollars in value. Fruits and nuts (chiefly fruits) from Hawaii amounted to two and one-half million dollars in value; from Porto Rico a little less than two million; and from the Philippines the shipments under this general head (chiefly coconut meat, broken, or "copra") amounted to a little over one-half million dollars. From Alaska the principal articles shipped to the United States were fish, chiefly salmon, to the value of eleven and one-third million dollars; furs, about one-half million; copper ore about one-fourth million.

The principal articles shipped to the territories in question, are, as already indicated, manufactures and foodstuffs. To Hawaii the group "cars, carriages, etc." amounts to about one million dollars, of which about three-fourths is automobiles; cotton manufactures, nearly two million dollars; iron and steel manufactures, three and three-fourth million; leather and manufactures thereof, more than one-half million; mineral oils, one and one-half million; paper and manufactures thereof, one-half million; tobacco manufactures, one-half million; manufactures of wood (chiefly lumber) one and one-half million; breadstuffs, one and three-fourth million, and meats three-fourths of a million.

To Porto Rico the principal articles were cars and carriages, one million dollars in value, of which automobiles formed a little more than one-third; cotton manufactures four and one-third million; iron and steel manufactures, four and one-half million; leather and manufactures thereof, over one million; mineral oils, one-half million; paper and manufactures thereof, over one-half million; soaps, nearly one-half million; manufactures of silk, one-third of a million; manufactures of wood, one and three-fourths million; breadstuffs, practically six million dollars, and meats, three and one-fourth million.

To the Philippines the principal articles shipped were cars and carriages over one-half million dollars in value, of which more than two-thirds was automobiles; cotton manufactures, four and one-third million, against one and two-thirds million in 1903; manufactures of iron and steel, four million; leather and manufactures thereof, nearly one million; paper and manufactures thereof, more than one-half million; manufactures of wood (chiefly lumber) over one-half million; mineral oils over a million; breadstuffs, one and one-fourth million, and meats one-half million.

To Alaska the principal articles shipped were iron and steel manufactures, four and one-half million dollars in value; wood and manufactures thereof, three-fourths of a million; mineral oils three-fourths of a million; tobacco, one-half million; vegetables one-half million; woolen manufactures over one-half million; cotton manufactures over one-half million; explosives nearly one-half million; eggs nearly one-half million; breadstuffs three-fourths million, and meat and dairy products, over two million dollars in value.

ENLISTMENT

Of Three Men in the Army Depends Upon Final Examination Monday.

Sergeant Cameron Herbert of the local recruiting station has three men awaiting final examination by Lieutenant, C. E. Swartz, who will arrive here from Parkersburg Monday morning. The men are Erle R. Sutton and Walter A. Yeager, both of Weston, and Clyde C. Sayers, of Tylerburg, Pa. Sutton desires to enter the cavalry service of the army, and the other two are applicants for enlistment in the infantry.

FROM THE TROPICS

In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, known as Eucalyptus, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article.

This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.

FOOT TORTURE

Rub on Euc and the Pain and Burning and Aching Will Vanish.

Foot misery is now a thing of the past. It matters not how sore your feet are, or how swollen or how red, one rub with Euc will make them fine and comfortable.

Wells & Haymaker Company is the agent for Euc in Clarksburg and every reader of the Telegram who has any foot troubles ought to get a twenty-five cent jar today.

Euc is a different foot remedy; it is a refined ointment which is quickly absorbed by the pores and soothes and heals the inflammation. It quickly takes the agony out of corns and bunions and makes the feet strong.

Euc is a good thing to have on hand at all times, nothing better for stinging, chafing or itching skin. For use after shaving, for burns, sunburn, rough hands, eczema, blackheads and redness of the nose. Euc, 25 cents at Wells & Haymaker Co.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Both Glad to Recommend Parisian Sage, the Guaranteed Hair Grower and Dandruff Cure.

Mrs. J. R. Burgess writes from Plum St., Danville, Va., June 4, 1910 as follows:

"I have used Parisian Sage and find it to be all you claim for it, and cheerfully recommend it to any one who is suffering from any hair dandruff, or scalp trouble."

On the same date Ruth Odell Burgess, the charming little daughter of Mrs. Burgess, writes:

"I am only a little girl, but I want to tell what Parisian Sage has done for me. I had a scalp disease that looked like dandruff and when it was coated up there would be a bloody water under the dandruff. My mother tried everything in the way of hair tonics, without results, until she saw the advertisement of Parisian Sage. She got a bottle and it cured me. I kept on using it. Now I have a beautiful head of hair as any girl."

Men, women and children, in every section of America who are using ordinary commercial hair tonics should give Parisian Sage a trial. It is so far ahead of all others that one application will prove its great superiority.

It is guaranteed by Wells & Haymaker Co. to stop falling hair, itching scalp, and to give out all dandruff in two weeks or money back. It grows hair in abundance and gives to the hair a lustrous and fascinating appearance. 50 cents a large bottle at Wells & Haymaker Co., and everywhere.
